Special film event in Warburton THIS SATURDAY September 9

To Thank the Room

Apologies for the late notice about this.

On this Saturday, at 3:00 pm, the documentary To Thank the Room will be showing at Arts Centre Warburton.

Directed and edited by local filmmakers Belinda Lloyd and Larry Lawson, the film documents the closing days of the beloved Brooklyn Arts Hotel in Fitzroy. The hotel was a 10-room guesthouse that filmmaker Maggie Fooke ran for artists and lovers of the arts to use as a base when in Melbourne.

When Maggie made the heartbreaking decision to close, she invited former guests and filmmakers to join her during the process.

Looks fascinating.

There will be a Q and A with Belinda, Larry, and Maggie after the film.

For tickets, use this link:

or book in person at Arts Centre Warburton or The Memo, Healesville.

Free matinees.

The Healesville free matinee put on by YRFS will be held on Sunday November the 12th at The Memo, Healesville.

The film is Frog Dreaming, a delightful Australian film. The link here will take you to a movie trailer.

(The date and film for the Warburton matinee is still to be determined.)

Problems with audio at Warburton's Belfast screening.

Don't forget that if you attended the Warburton screening of Belfast, where we had some sound issues, you are entitled to a free movie pass for use at either Arts Centre Warburton or The Memo, Healesville.

Still seeking an auditor

At the end of each financial year, the Yarra Ranges Film Society has their books audited.

This is to ensure that all monies collected, and expenses are accounted for.

The person who has been doing this for us is no longer available.

If you know of someone who would be prepared to take on this task (not onerous) for 2024 please let us know. We think it needs to be someone not in the Film Society. It's not a paying task, but a gratuity is given.

See you all at the pictures!

Vivienne Bond.
